Milestone Dedication

dedi•cate (ded' kit; for v., -kat) adj. (ME. dedicat, L. dedicatus, pp. of dedicare, to consecrate, declare de-, intens. + dicare, to proclaim, dicere, to say) (Poet. or Archaic) dedicated -vt. -cated, -cating (ME. dedicaten : the adj.) 1. to set apart for worship or a deity or devote to a sacred purpose 2. to set apart seriously for a special purpose; devote to some work, duty, etc. 3. to address, to inscribe (a book, artistic performance, etc.) to someone or something as a sign of honor or affection.

To dedicate means to consecrate or to set apart for. This year the Milestone Staff would like to dedicate this yearbook to a man who has dedicated himself in two areas. First, he is a dedicated Christian who has set himself apart to worship our Lord. Second, he is dedicated in his work and has seriously devoted himself to his work. He was a student at the Washington Bible College himself and he has seen the need for excellent Christian literature in the lives of students and all Christians. For eleven years he has been dedicated to meeting this need. Therefore we dedicate the 1982 MILESTONE to Andy Knighting

The Zero Milestone

All races begin somewhere. All races end somewhere. There is a starting line and a finish line to every race. In the Christian life we have a starting life at the cross of Christ and a finish line at the throne of God. However, unlike an earthly race, all those in the spiritual race have the potential to obtain the victor's crown. As we run the race, we must run that we might obtain.

There is a starting line in Washington, D.C. It is marked by a stone marker entitled, the Zero Milestone. The MILESTONE of the Washington Bible College derives its name from this stone marker. This yearbook is not a mile marker designed to show a culmination point, but a challenge to the seniors to use their time at WBC as a beginning point from which to go into the world and serve God. It is a challenge to the underclassmen to continue in their studies and make this time profitable in order to be able to run that they might obtain. Our time at WBC is a period of intense training to prepare us for the race that begins after graduation. Yet let us remember that our spiritual race began when we came to the cross and that we are called, every day to continue RUNNING THE RACE.

Starting The Race

Running The Race

Run, therefore, that ye may obtain;
A crown of righteousness to gain,
Fear not, run on, ignore the pain,
For God's rewards will true remain.

When off ahead you see a snare
And then you feel that God's not there,
Keep running on and lift a prayer,
Upon your Lord cast all your care.

So run that you will not be found
A quitter when the chips are down;
To him who perseveres a crown
Of life to him is handed down.

Contestants

"Know ye not that they who run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain."

GOALS

"This one thing I do . . . I press toward the mark." Herein is found Paul's goal in life. Without a goal to aim toward, Paul would have gone nowhere. He knew this and so established for himself a major goal, that is, that he might know Christ (Phil. 3:10). This was his life's goal. Along the way, Paul had intermediate goals such as reaching Rome with the gospel and bringing the tithes to the church at Jerusalem. Goals are established by discerning God's will for us and then aiming at it. We know that it is God's will for us that we come to know Him deeply, that we be sanctified in holiness to Him. This should be our foremost goal. As we reach for this goal, we must set up intermediate goals to enable us to measure our progress. For example, the psalmist speaks to God in Psalm 5:3, "My voice shalt thou hear in the morning." This could be one of our intermediate goals, that we meet with God every morning. We must go through God's Word with an eye tuned to finding the goals that God has for us. Then we must run the race daily so as to accomplish these smaller goals in anticipation of reaching our final goal. Let us write our goals down and then go forth and accomplish them that the race may be completed and the Master of the race glorified.

MARANATHA

When he runs he never wearies.
When he walks he never faints.
He is striving for the Master
And is cheered on by the saints.
Earthly runners may be healthy
But a better race is on;
Won't you come and join the runners,
Maranatha Marathon!

MARATHON

You can tell the Christian runner
By the straight and narrow track
That he follows without swerving
Left or right or looking back.
There's a finish line in Heaven
That his heart is fixed upon,
The common goal of all the runners,
Maranatha Marathon.

You can tell the Christian runner
By the smile upon his face
And the song within his heart
That helps him keep the pace.
If you listen to this runner
You will hear a song of praise.
He is running for his Master
And will serve Him all his days.

EFFORT

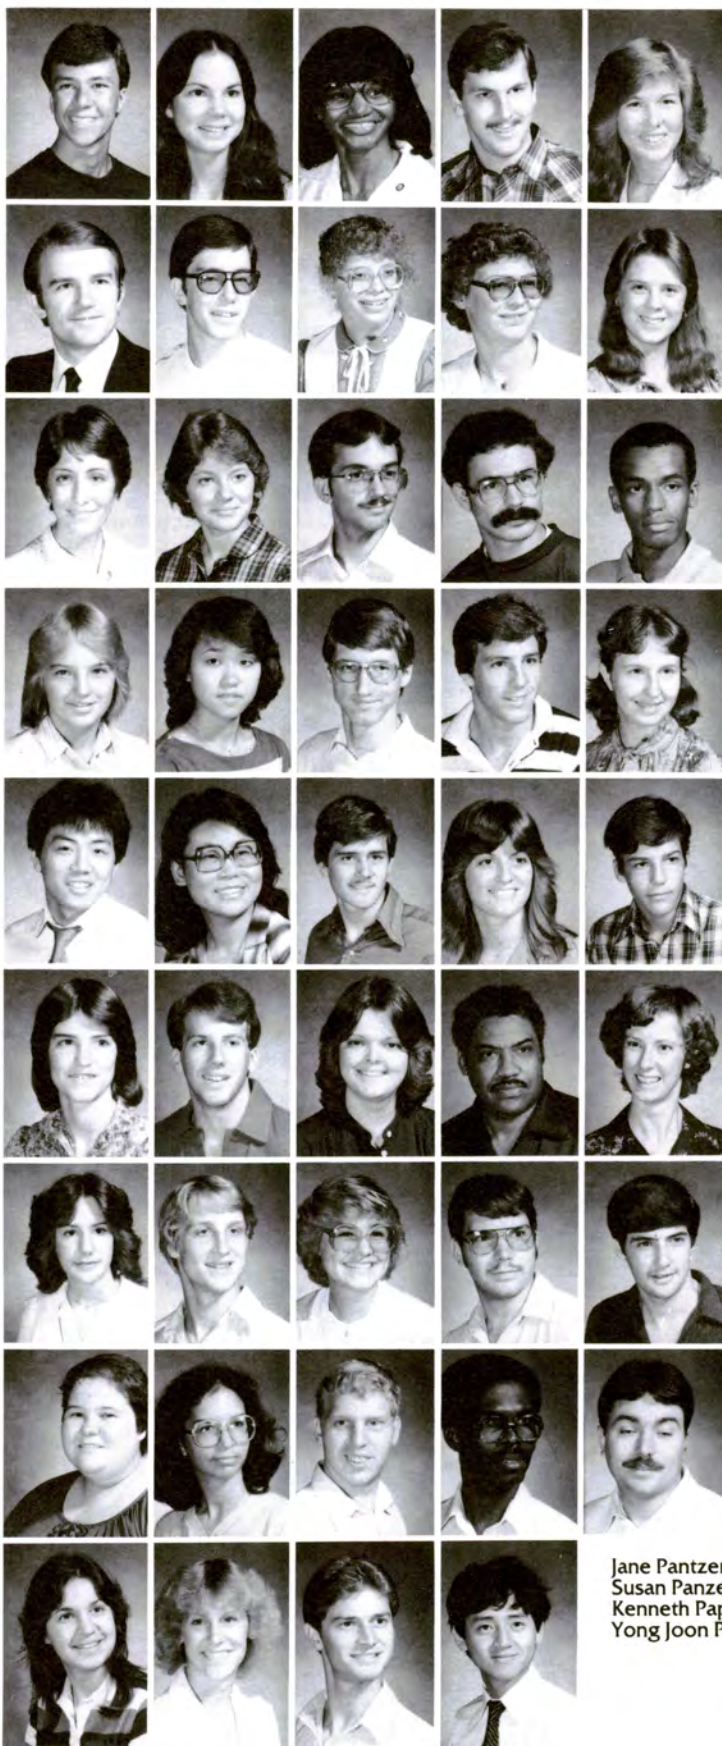

What is effort? How are we to run the race which is set before us — the Christian life? Did not Paul command that we, "Run that we might obtain . . . Fight the good fight of faith . . . be strong . . . strive for masteries?" This is MAXIMUM effort! The successful Christian life is not for those who have no desire to live it. It is work. It requires the utmost diligence. Therefore, let us stand fast in the Lord; let us hold fast to the faithful word; let us be steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding, giving all diligence; let us run that we might win the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Running in such a manner we will win. Press on!

OBSTACLES

Paul, a humble man who was made great only by the radiance of God through him, compared the Christian life to a race. Though he was addressing the Corinthians, he is now talking to us when he declared, "Run in such a way that you may win!" For our opponent is not any other but ourselves, and we may disqualify ourselves not from eternal life but from finishing the course. Paul next shares that the ability to overcome the obstacles, that either we place there ourselves or we come across in our lives, is gained by self-control. Through out his epistles Paul exhorts us to keep striving for the mark that lies before us. In his last epistle he shares with his friend Timothy that, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith." Yes, Paul had accomplished the task before him, and that was finishing the race. As he encountered the obstacles of life he exercised self-control in following God and keeping his eyes steadfast upon "Him who is our hope." God does not say that life will be smooth and wrinkleless but He does promise the grace and strength to complete the race. Nor does He require perfection from us, but a steady progression. So as we are moving forward upon the next meter of life's trek, "forgetting what lies behind and reaching forward to what lies ahead, . . . press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus."

PATIENCE

Patience, a mighty virtue, is a vital link in the Christian's race toward godliness. Patience is brought through trials of suffering, tribulation and affliction. Patience through trials brings experience as one keeps running the race. This experience brings hope. We hope for what we see not, then with patience we wait for it. When we run the race we can not see the finish line of our perfection in godliness even though we know that the finish line is there and though we know what we are striving for. By patiently waiting for the day we will reach our final goal, we inherit God's promises. We are to run the race with patience, bearing up under the pressures of trials, afflictions, sufferings, and tribulations; and pressing on at the same time, waiting on God's timing, hoping for the day when we will reach the final goal of godliness in our life.

ENDURANCE

en·dur·ance (—ens) n. 1. The act of enduring 2. the power of enduring; specif., a) ability to last, continue, or remain b) ability to stand pain, distress, fatigue, ect.; fortitude 3. duration 4. [Rare] that which is endured; hardship.

Do you find it difficult to endure? Can you alone endure the pain, distress and fatigue that occurs in your daily life? You may say, "I can take anything, I can endure any obstacle that falls into my daily race." Maybe you don't say it, but you think it. How many times do you fail when you rely on yourself? A couple? Many! However, you can endure all things through Christ's strength. "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." You can "endure hardness even as a good soldier," as Paul exhorted Timothy to do. Endurance allows us to "fight the good fight of faith" and to keep on striving. So, endure!

ATTITUDE

Sometimes our victories are won
Before the game begins,
If we have learned the secret
Of the spiritual disciplines.

Not only on the field or court
We engage in competition,
But in the holy place of prayer
We battle our opposition.

Rules we must know and follow
To play a winning game,
His Word must dwell within our hearts
To glorify His Name.

When Christ is Lord of all
And His Spirit prevails within,
He enables us to play the game
With victory over sin.

And at the final buzzer
It's not the winning score,
But if I've played to honor Him
That to me means so much more.

DISCIPLINE

Setting out to gain the prize in a race presupposes a careful selection of the race to be run. Intent to gain a prize also presupposes a runner willing to count as worthless everything but the race. All that hinders the achievement of the prize must, of course, be laid aside, an act requiring discipline. Discipline determines not only to see clearly the race most worth the run, but determines to accomplish in God's strength each detail that leads to the prize. Once gained, the joy of the prize, which is the high calling of the race, obliterates the pain of thinking, praying, running, and remaining steadfast — the disciplines required for the winning. Each race has its prize; however, only one prize is worth its race.

I press on in order to lay hold on that for which I also was laid hold on by Christ Jesus. I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

STUDENT MISSIONS FELLOWSHIP

SMF is a vital student organization established to give students the opportunity of becoming involved in missions now. Students attend prayer bands to pray, support mission projects by giving, and attend missionary conferences to learn and be challenged. God uses praying, giving and learning to direct the individual student to his own place of ministry.

CHOIR

To be part of the Washington Bible College choir involves several things. First it means that one has a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. Next it involves having a high commitment to performing to the best of one's ability in order to bring the most glory to God. Lastly it involves a willing attitude to spend many hours in practice, preparation, and prayer. This year the choir ministered in many churches during the second semester, and spent the mid-semester recess singing concerts throughout the New England states. The choir, under the direction of Mr. James Bos, endeavors to edify the believers, evangelize the unbelievers, and glorify God. They plan to tour Europe for three weeks in early summer, ministering to believers running the race there.

SUMMER MISSIONARIES

Carol Williams, Austria

Carolyn Johnson, CEF

Summer ministries play an important part in the life of each student. This year teams of summer missionaries served in virtually every part of the world, from the jungles of Papua, New Guinea, to South America, India, Peru, Haiti, France, Chicago, British Columbia, Canada, and New York City, not to mention numerous students serving as camp counselors and in CEF. Students rejoice in the opportunity to put to use principles learned in the classroom. It is exciting each fall to hear the students testify concerning God's working through them.

REGISTRATION

Registration. A freshman frustration. A necessary part of college life. For the returning students, it is a time to renew old friendships, share exciting news from the summer, and just get re-aquainted. For the first time, registration was held in the Wagner Center gymnasium. All went smoothly and we rejoiced to see so many register to study God's Word.

WEEK OF EVANGELISM

Art Williams, director of Open Air Campaigners, was the speaker for the 1981 Week of Evangelism. Students had the opportunity to join one of the open-air teams, campus teams, or airport teams to fulfill their Week of Evangelism requirement. There were numerous opportunities to share the gospel with people. Many decisions for Christ were made, as well as contacts to follow up.

CHAPEL

Chapel is a time set aside each day for the students to come together and be jointly edified. Special speakers, such as Rev. Bob Norris and Dr. Homer Heater, are invited to speak in chapel for the lecture series. Missionaries, pastors, and faculty members speak from time to time. The music department presents a mini-concert once a month as part of their artists series. Occasionally, chapel format is changed to keep things interesting and relevant. Some of these variations include panel discussions, all-college testimonies, and hymnsing chapels. Much care is taken to insure that the students profit much from chapel meetings.

LABOR DAY

Labor day was an enjoyable day for both faculty and students. The day began with shortened classes, after which all proceeded to a buffet lunch served under the pine trees in the picnic area. After this the students challenged the faculty in a friendly game of softball. The day ended gently, a time of relaxation for all.

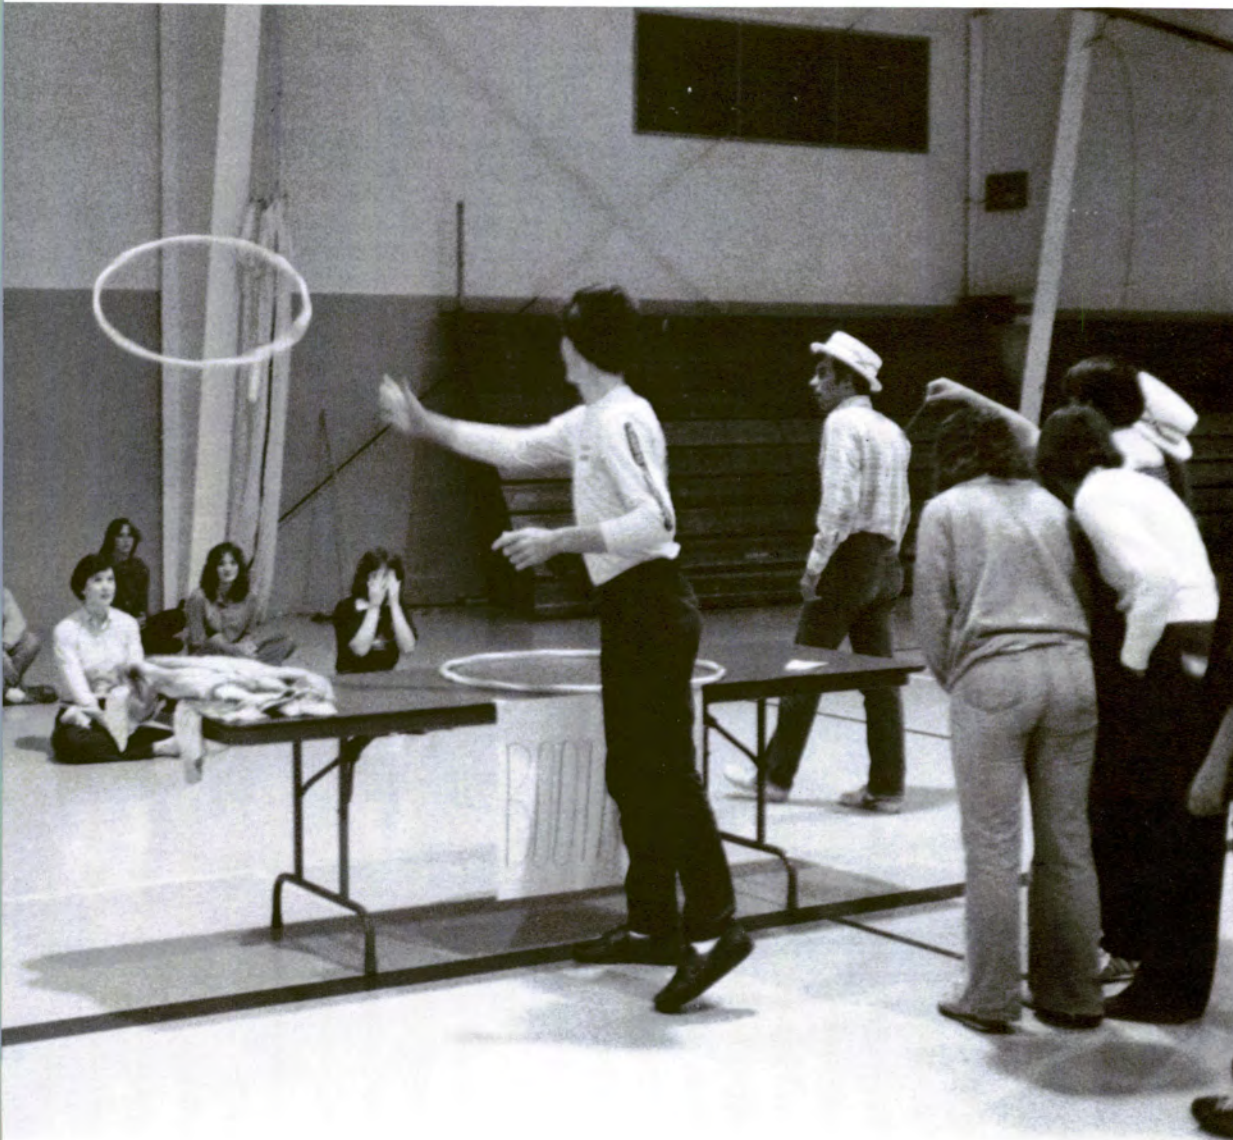

OPERATION CHALLENGE

In November 1981, our college weekend at Washington Bible College was the best ever. We changed the name from "OPERATION ALERT" to "OPERATION CHALLENGE" because we wanted the entire weekend to be a challenge for the prospective students. The highlight of the weekend was "the carnival" of challenges in the new Wagner Center. Our very own students were the key to the event's successfulness. The weekend ended with a challenging film and campfire to encourage the prospective students in their relationship with Jesus Christ.

THE FOUNDERS BANQUET

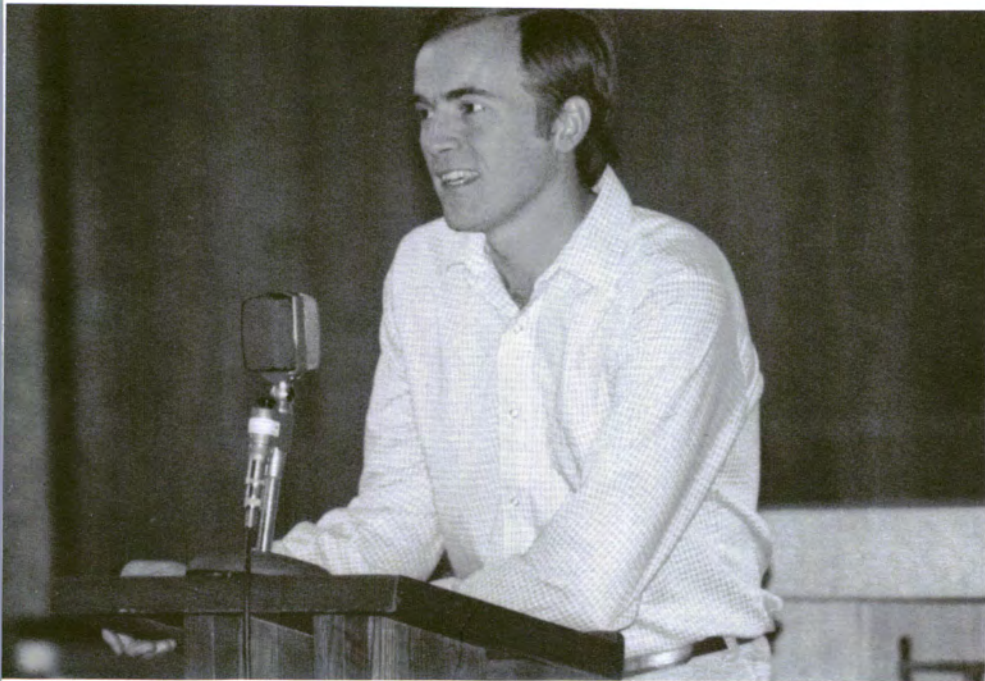

Running the race to complete the payment of the Wagner Center was the project for this year's Founders Banquet. We were heading toward the finish line of another milestone in the maturing of the Washington Bible College. The banquet food was to build our physical strength, the slides were an encouragement of how far we have already come, the student testimonies were cheers to keep pressing on, and finally our coach, President Miles, gave us a pep talk from God's Word. The Founders Banquet did not reach the finish line of complete payment for the Wagner Center, but we made a good showing. The race continues on . . .

PARENTS DAY

Parents day afforded the students and their parents the opportunity to spend a day together. The day began with an orientation for the parents in the chapel. There several students sang and gave testimonies, the faculty was introduced, then several faculty members spoke for a few moments. Two annual awards were given, one for the parents having come the furthest, and the second, for the parents with the largest family present. The first award went to the DeCanios and the second to the Cowgills. A special award of appreciation for services rendered was given to Mrs. Genter. After this were held a field hockey game and a soccer game, between which the parents and students were served a buffet lunch.

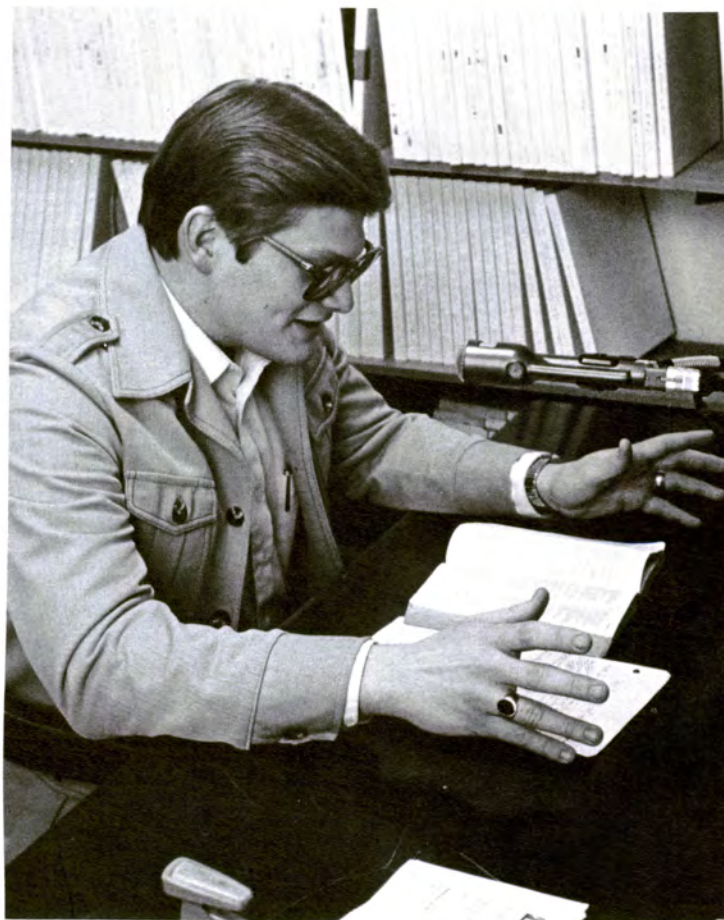

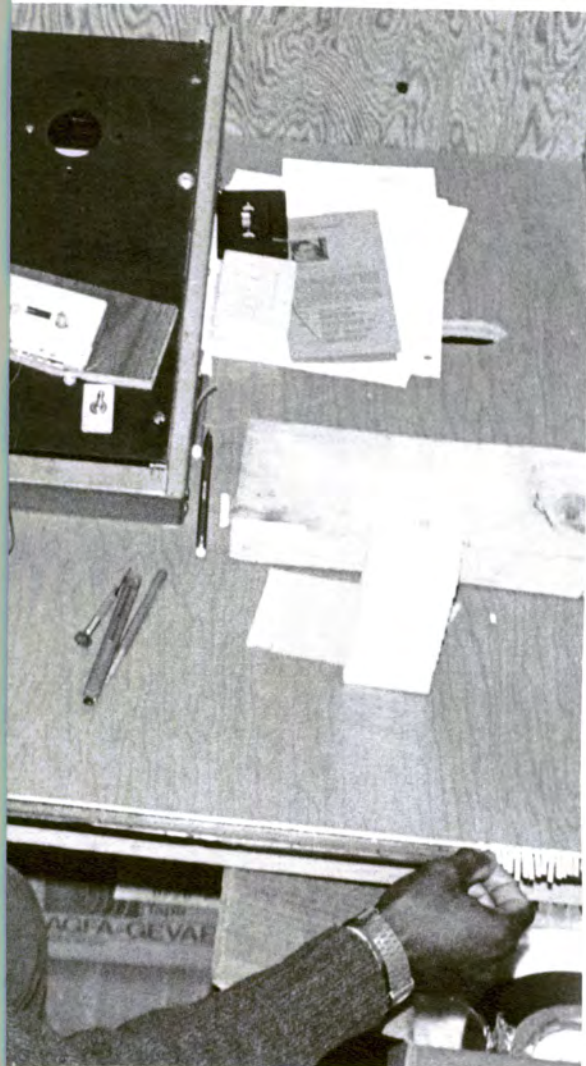

RADIO ROOM MORNING FOCUS

The radio room plays a large role on the campus. There, chapel messages and musical groups such as the choir are taped. Supervised by Mr. Jim Schuppe, the studio is manned by Dan Allotey and Richard Darling. In addition to the ministry inside the College, the radio room has a ministry to those outside. Tapes for missionary tape-slide presentation are produced here, as well as the daily Morning Focus program heard on WFSI. Morning Focus is a fifteen minute Bible study on various books of the Bible, produced by faculty members of both the College and the Seminary. It is a great tool of outreach into the community.

STUDENT WIVES

FELLOWSHIP

Student Wives Fellowship is an organization in which the wives of the students enrolled at W.B.C. can gather for fellowship and spiritual enrichment. Meeting monthly, the women gather for a time of Bible study followed by an activity, such as the annual craft show pictured here.

TEAM SPIRIT

Team Spirit is a summer team that travels to churches and camps ministering in sports and in song. This year the team visited churches in Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee. They spent time at various camps such as Tel Hai Camp, Camp Joy — Camp Hope, and Camp Nathanael. There they ministered as counselors and also challenged teams of campers to softball, basketball, and volleyball. During all of this interaction with campers and church youth groups, Team Spirit challenges the teens to run the race with Christ as their Guide.

Team members are as follows: Front: Tom Gugliuzza, Judy Hall, Jim Hill; Back: Rick Lyon, Leisa Roszman, Peggy Boynton, Dave Pettit, Rita Rosenberger, Monty Holstein.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

The Women's Auxiliary is composed of interested women from the greater Washington area who band together in support of the ministry of Washington Bible College and Capital Bible Seminary.

Their support takes three directions: prayer, promotion, and projects.

It has been the delight of these dedicated women to demonstrate their interest in providing many needed items for the campus.

Three of the major projects of the year 1981-1982 were providing screens and drapes for Steiner Women's Dorm, furnishing the Ruth E. Miles Memorial Student Center in the new Wagner Center, and new carpet and paint for the Administration Building hallway.

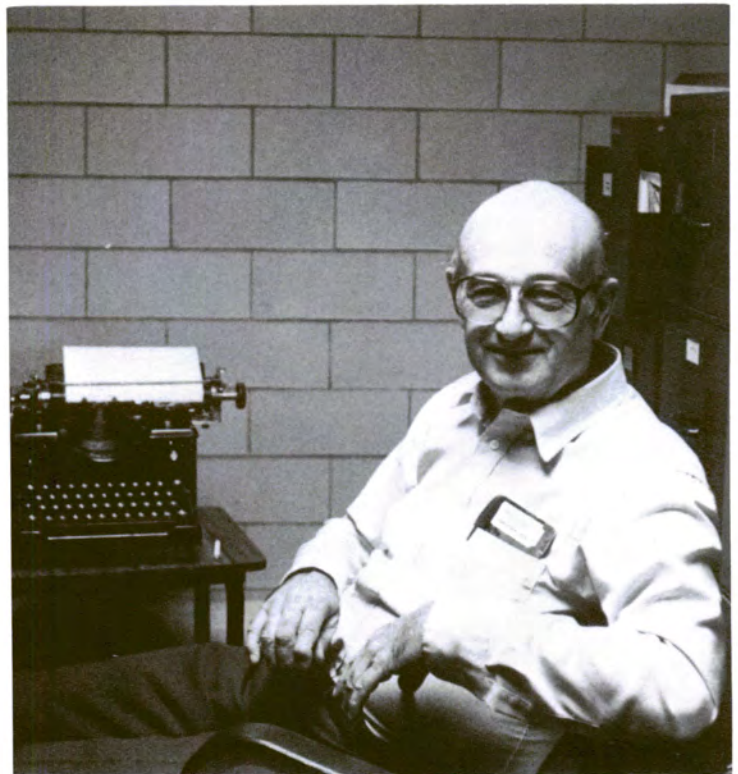

President of Women's Auxilliary, Mrs. Martha Evans

CORRESPONDANCE SCHOOL

The primary purpose of the correspondance school is to encourage as many Christians as possible to study the Bible and related subjects. These courses bring the classroom into the home within reach of all who desire a knowledge of the Bible. There are eighteen courses offered, covering topics such as the Inspiration and Authority of the Bible, Major Bible Doctrines, Personal Evangelism, and The Sunday School. At present there are 330 people enrolled in the correspondance school.

ADULT EDUCATION

Our purpose is well stated in II Timothy 3:16, 17, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." Our goal, then, in cooperation with local pastors, is to strengthen local churches by helping the believers mature in Christ and develop their spiritual gifts for effective service. This brings honor and glory to God which is our ultimate purpose. Our method is to provide competent and consistent Bible study in evening school taught by qualified, spiritual men.

The Adult Education Program is a Bible training program leveled academically for mature, concerned adults. It is designed to enrich and equip church members to serve in a wide range of church-related ministries. Held in twenty-seven locations in seven states, the Adult Education reaches over 1000 adults on the Eastern sea coast.

SPORTS

The Warriors finished the season with a highly respectable record of 10-7-1. Included in the 10 wins was a school record of 7 wins in a row. However, the team finished a disappointing 4th in the North Atlantic Christian Conference. Highlights of the year were a first-ever win over Washington College and qualifying for the NCCAA District play-offs. Youssef Soufiane set a new scoring record with 23 goals and 5 assists. Youssef also was named to the NACC All-Conference team and Dave Duley was an honorable mention selection.

Women's athletics at W.B.C. took a great leap forward this year as the field hockey team played to its first win in its history. The hockey squad went undefeated at home as well, tying the two home games, for an over-all record of 1-2-3. For the first time, the team was invited to the Washington Area Field Hockey Tournament. At the close of the tournament, Scarlett King and Sharon Johnson were chosen for the Washington College all-star second team. It was a fine season for the lady Warriors, and we look forward to many more of the same.

FIELD HOCKEY

BASKETBALL

As of January 30, the Warriors had a solid 11-6 overall record and were 4-2 in the NACC. Their goal of a district playoff berth and a possible national tournament bid was looking attainable. The Warriors were led this year by All-American candidates Dave Klinedinst and Irv Clark, and co-captain Tim Lykins. The use of the Wagner Center for home games has greatly aided the team. In fact, the potential to break the school's record of 16 victories, set last year, was very great.

We thank the Lord that He continues to use athletic competition to help prepare young men and women for Christian service.

INTRAMURALS

The intramurals program this year saw more student involvement than before. Three societies, ΑΠΩ ΒΣΤ, and ΔΓΠ, battled for first place. The program involved various activities such as men's outdoor soccer, women's indoor soccer, volleyball, ping-pong, and chess. A sports day was held first semester. During the day two cross-country races were held, one for men, and one for women. Societies competed in a relay bike race, and the day ended with king and queen of the hill, and a sprint up the front driveway. All through the year the competition was stiff and excitement ran high. It was a good year of running the intramurals race.

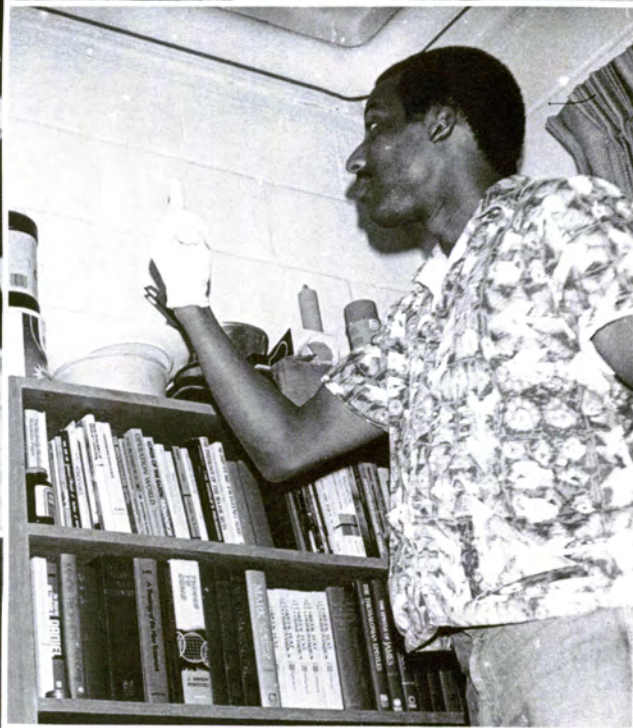

CHEERLEADERS

This year saw new things for the cheerleaders — new uniforms and a new gym to cheer in. Two new cheerleaders were added to the squad and many new cheers. The squad ran the sports race by cheering at all soccer and basketball home games.

TIME OUT

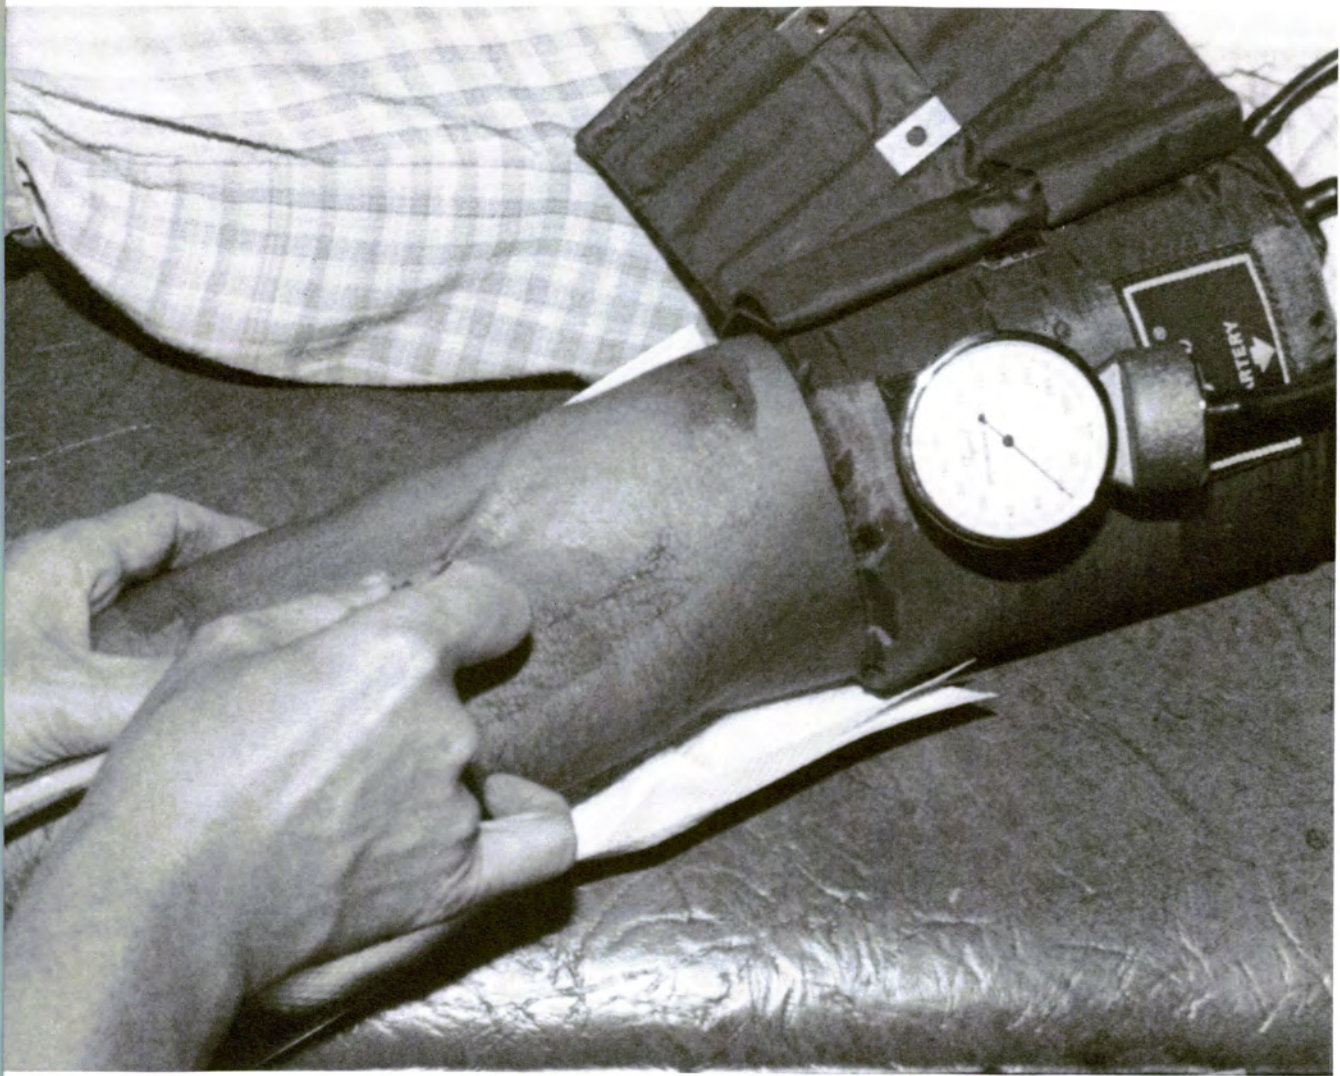

BLOODMOBILE

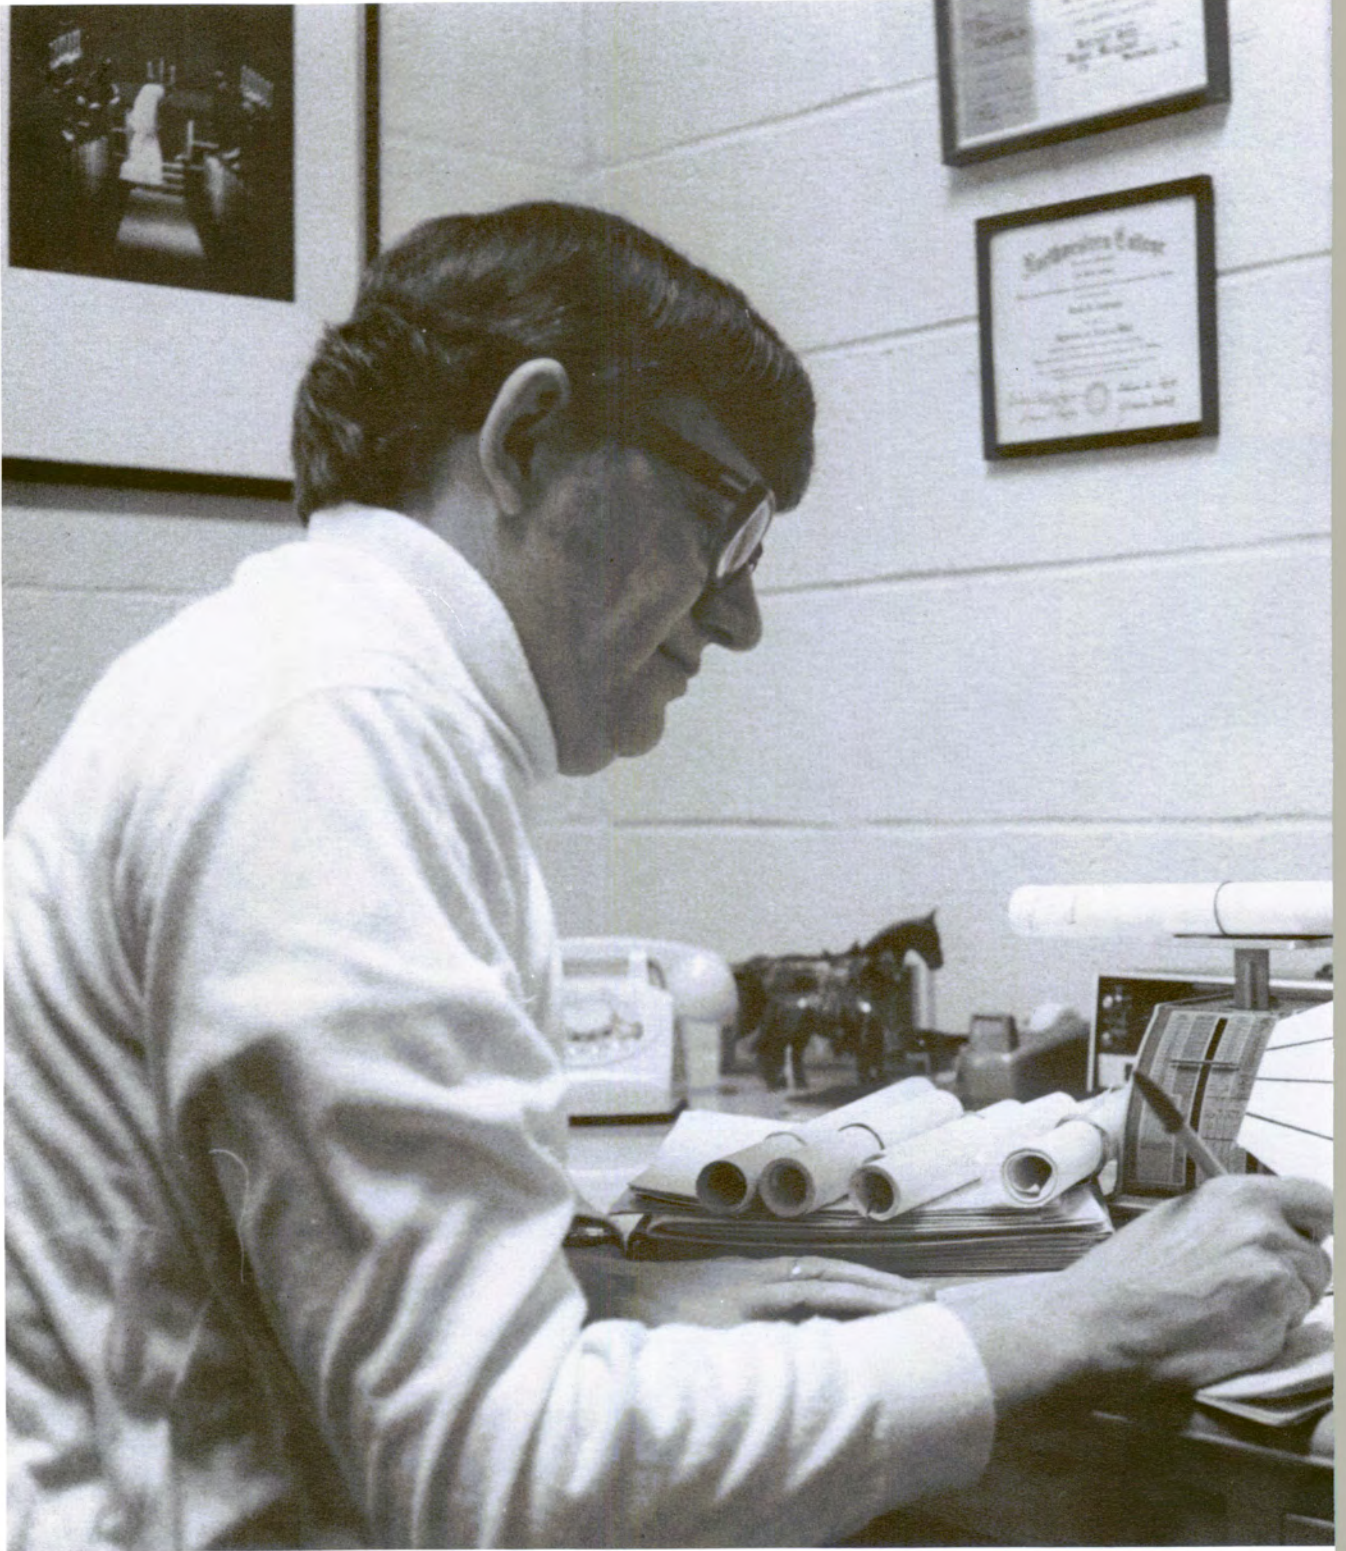

What has a long needlenose, which when inserted into the arm of a human, draws blood? No, it's not a mosquito. It's the W.B.C. annual autumn bloodmobile! This year's bloodmobile was a success thanks to high student support. The Red Cross appreciated our involvement and a good testimony was given.

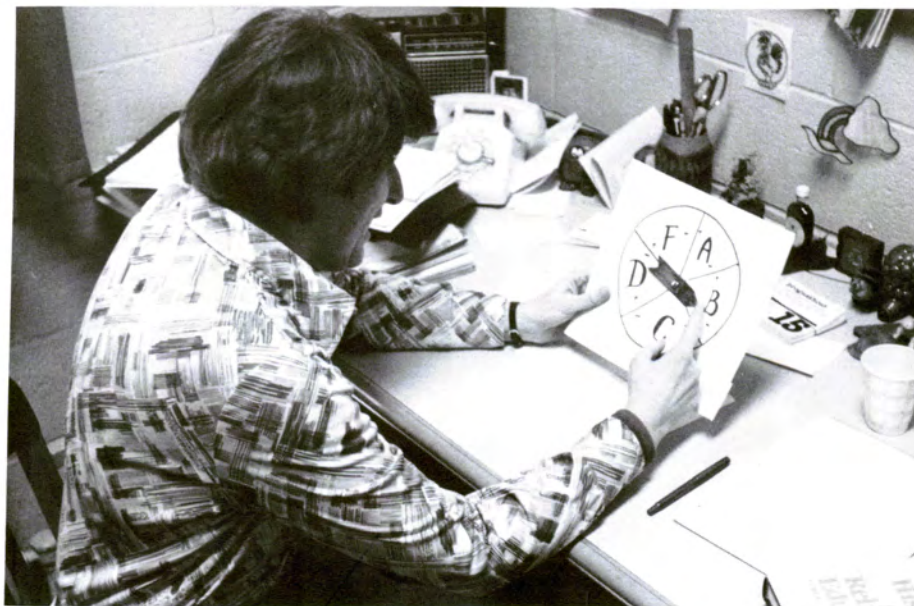

MAKING THE GRAD

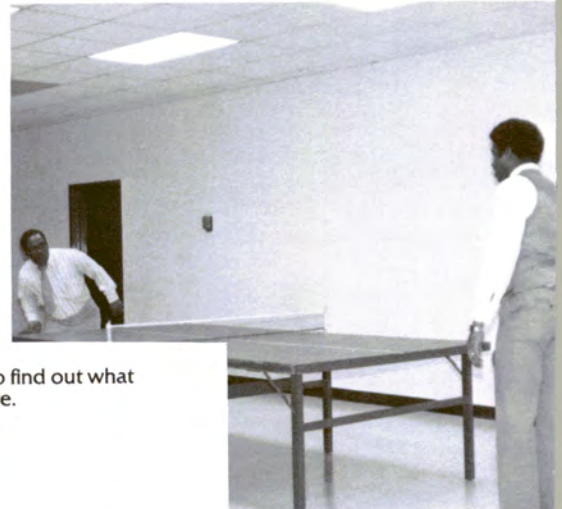

Ever gotten back a paper or a project and wondered by what method it had been graded? Thanks to the MIA, MILESTONE Intelligence Agency, the following was caught by our "hidden cameras":

SEMINARY

Practice for Christian Service by preaching on a soap box in Washington D.C. and by handing out at least 75 tracts per week.

Visit the Seminary to find out what seminarians do there.

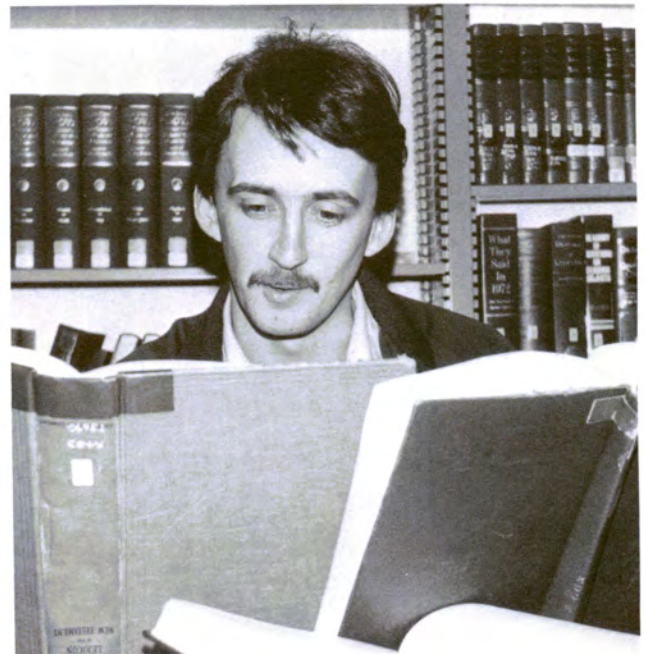

TO THE

STEPS

Become good friends with a few seminarians. Learn all you can from them.

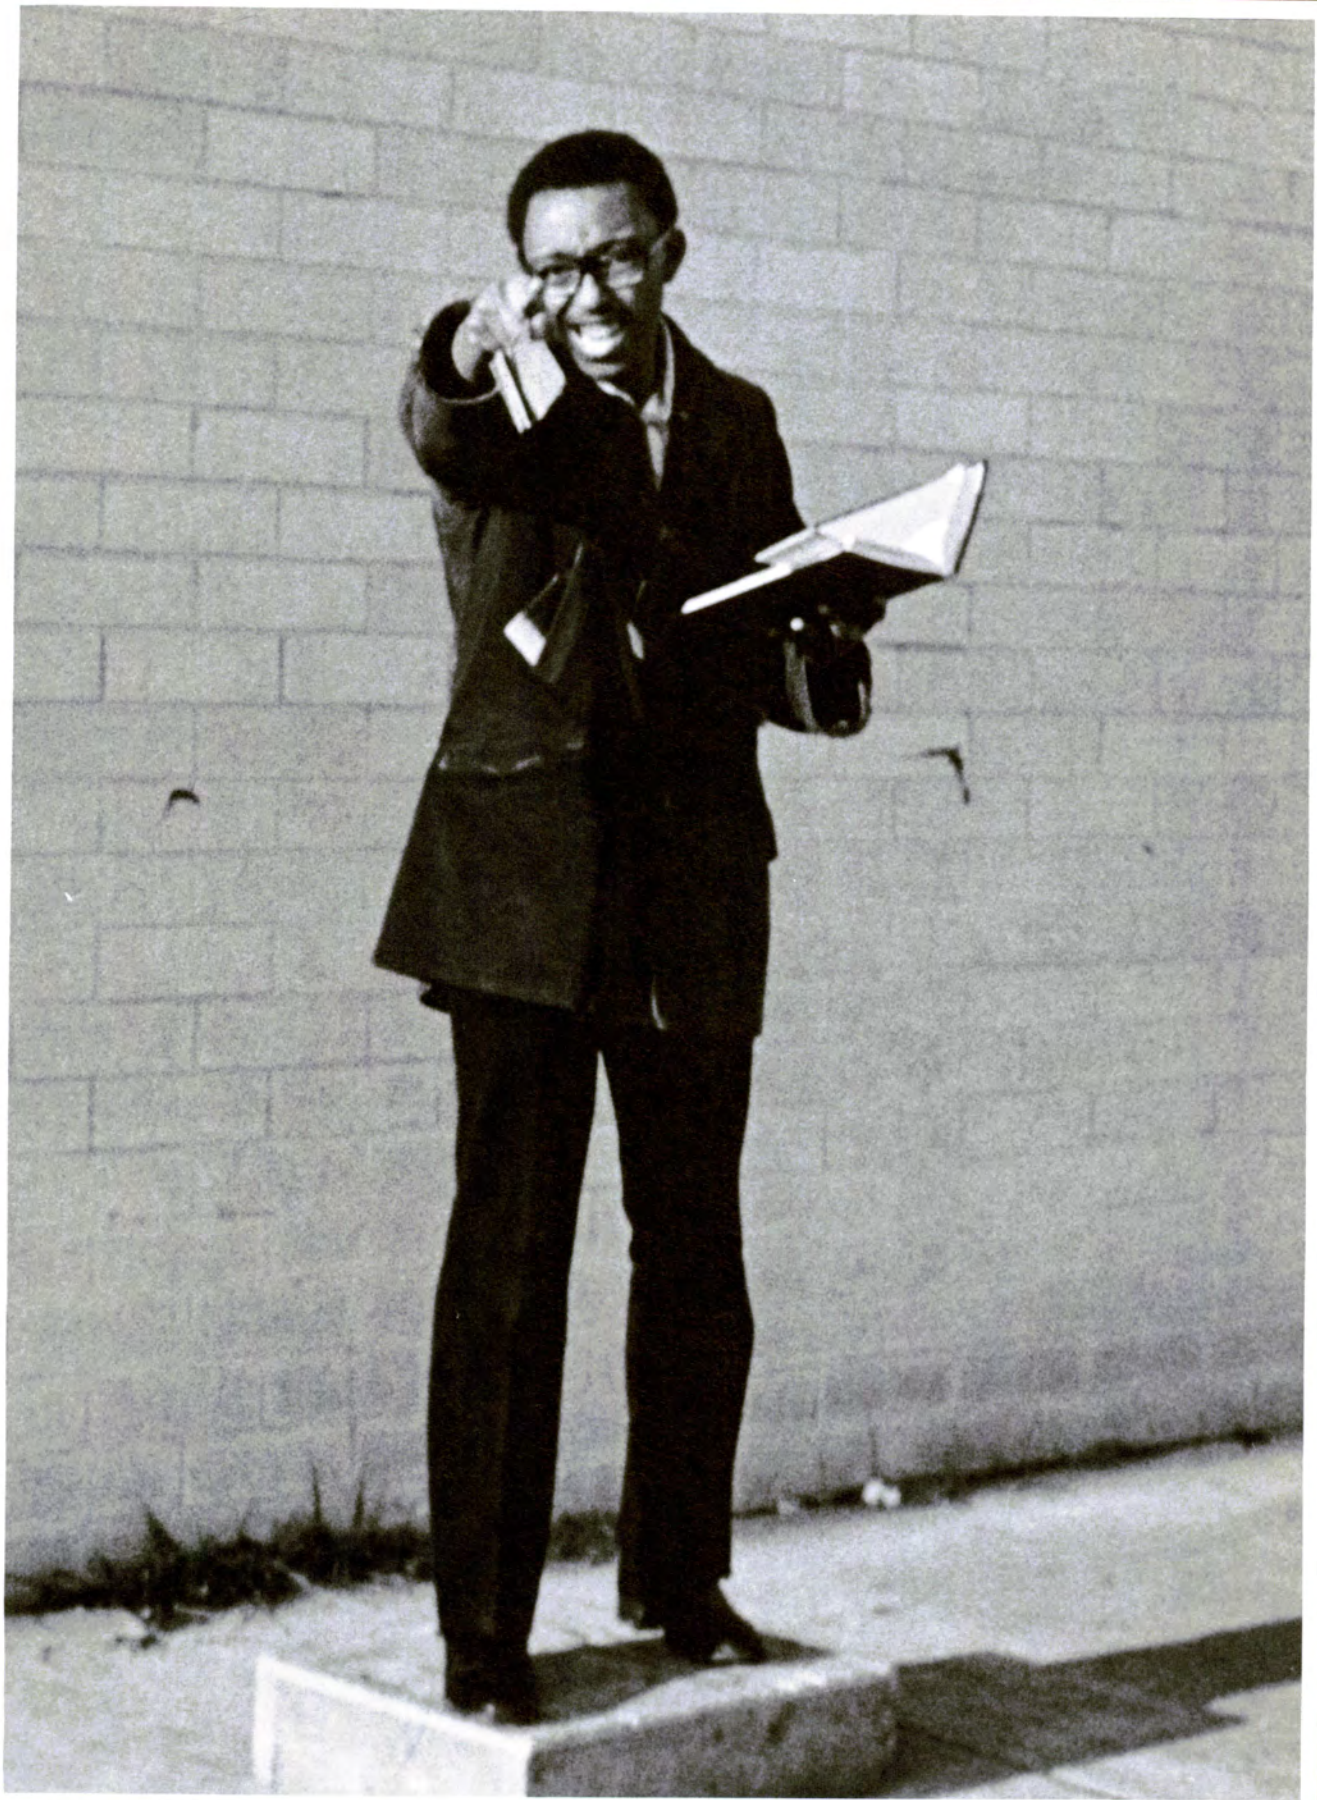

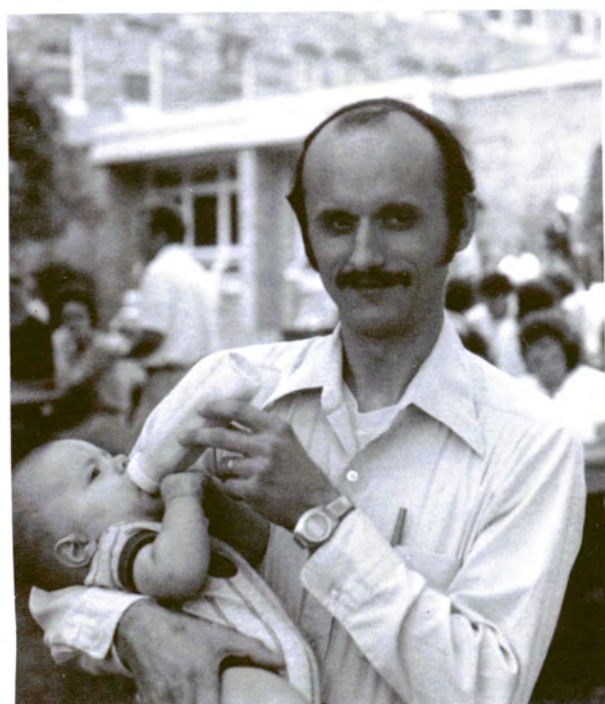

Learn all the Greek and Hebrew that you can. Take your notes in Greek.

Learn to speed read. Or better yet, read by osmosis.

MARRIED STUDENTS

Some students run, not only the studies race, but also the family race. These brave runners are known as married students. There are advantages and disadvantages to being a married student. Time must be made to spend with the family. Food bills and other costs are higher. However, the benefits are great. Some benefits given by our married students are as follows: Less incidence of homesickness as one's family is with him, support and encouragement, better study time, better self-discipline, and none of the pressure of dating. All taken into account, the married students seem to be very happy running the family race and they wouldn't trade it for anything else.

Chi Alpha Omega, the honor society of the Washington Bible College, inducts into its membership those students who achieve a grade point average of 3.5 or above while running the race here. Its Greek letters symbolize Christ, the beginning and the end, and encourage the student to make Christ his All. The purpose of the society is to encourage the student to strive to do his best for the Master's glory.

Jesus wept!

Shall we, whose souls are lighted
With wisdom from on high,
Shall we to men benighted
The lamp of life deny?
Salvation! O Salvation!
The joyful sound proclaim,
Till earth's remotest nation
Has learned Messiah's name.

Remembrances: During my years at WBC, the Lord used the school to teach me in all areas of my life — intellectually, emotionally, and spiritually. The display of my teachers' enthusiasm, humility, and care for the students impressed me deeply. Through their encouragement and patient teaching, I was able to build up my confidence in some of my weak areas. I learned that I should be a humble and patient person in order to be a good worker for God. I also learned that I need always to trust God

Remembrance: Being campused for 3 months; knowing all about the life and times of George Miles; you got to love the road; trying to pass Schuppe's exams; friendly atmosphere; the food, but I would like to forget that; meeting my fiancée; seeing my first cockroach and many other things.

William Christopher Jones

4933 Whitfield Chapel Rd.
Lanham, Md. 20706
Activities: Children's Open Air Team Leader 2.
Remembrance: I will remember the hard work. It will stick to my mind, not because it was hard, but because God was so faithful. I will remember the Lord's providing all of my financial needs, especially in my junior year, the thrill of being a WBC senior is unforgettable. Praise God. Thank God for the experiences that have taught me to trust Him. Great is Thy faithfulness!

Evangelical Church Mekane Yesus
Addis Ababa, Ethiopia
Activities: Teacher
Remembrance: I express my appreciation to all the professors who have given me the knowledge of God.

Hank Kistner

135 N. Hanley Rd.
Clayton, MO 63105

Remembrance: Rewards in heaven are only a continuation of the abundant life that we should be living right now — Dr. Johnson. God is able to deliver us . eg. save a semester from academic failure in the last week. I learned that God wants his people to work hard and to endure the pressure of responsibility by faith in Him. From Mr. Bishop I learned that it is possible to make sense of Old Testament passages that appear to be totally mysterious. From Dr. Fowler I learned that your quiet time is the most important thing that you do all day, and that there may be a pre-trib rapture.

Dave Klinedinst

520 S. Emday St.
York, PA 17402

Activities: Basketball 1,2,3,4; D.C. 4; Team Spirit 2.

Remembrance: Fellowship with other Christians. (The exposure of my mind and heart to eternal truth and its implication for my life through the professors. The friendships that were developed with other believers. Playing basketball for the glory of God and becoming more like Jesus Christ through my relationship with Coach Epstein and the other players on the team.

Rue 7 H-1 #159
Cap-Haitien, Haiti
West Indies

Activities: Soccer Team 1,2; Volleyball Team 3; Central America Prayer Band 1,2,3; Prayer Band Leader 3; Summer Missionary to Haiti 2.

Remembrance: I will remember the trials I went through at WBC in which I experienced the power of the presence of God. I thank God for the friendship of those students who really care. I will remember my professors who have done their best to give me a fine education. To God be the glory and praise!!!!

Jolene Stallard MacFarlane

P.O. Box 284
Jupiter, FL 33458-0025

Activities: Choir 1,2; Class Secretary 1,2; Student Council Secretary 3; Sound of New Life 2.

Remembrance: I will always remember the close friendships I have developed (munchkin friend especially!) I remember meeting my husband here, Ian MacFarlane, and learning to keep Christ first in our relationship and in life. I will never forget the excellent Bible teaching here and the examples of our professors. I'm excited to pass on to others the treasures I have found at WBC.

Joann Pylar

9530 Dubarry Ave.
Seabrook, MD 20706

Activities: Library 2,3,4; Yearbook 4.

Remembrance: I will remember WBC as the period of my life where I "learned" to keep pushing on in the midst of seemingly impossible circumstances knowing that Christ is in control and all is well, to give it my best and allow Christ to do the rest, to love His Word and to see His goodness.

Thomas Smith

4302 S. 16th St., Apt. 22
Arlington, VA 22204

Remembrance: The challenge of the committed lives of Dr. Fowler, Dr. Johnson, Dr. Miller, and Mr. Bishop, and the encouragement of Jeff Watson.

Judy Surmick

5100 Park Land South
Suitland, MD 20706

Remembrance: At WBC the Lord has taught me the importance of living for Him moment by moment, and to continually press forward in the midst of trials. I am thankful for the love of God and His Word in the lives of the faculty and staff; and for their willingness and availability to give me individual guidance. I will also remember the friends I made and the Campus Team.

Michael Dale Sweat

107 White Birch Ct.
Greenbelt, MD 20770

Activities: Soccer 1,2,3; Choir 1,2; Summer Missionary to Peru, SA 1.

Remembrance: My best remembrance of WBC is the Soccer Team and especially the "ice-breaking" first goal I scored (against our team) in the District Playoffs against Messiah College. I trust that the guys will always remember me as "THE BIG G." On a more serious note, I can't help but reflect on the trials that came my way in the three years as a student at WBC. As James says, trials are for growth and I thank God for proving Himself strong in my life especially through my closest friends.

Alpheria Suzette Swindell

6387 Partridge St.
Norfolk, VA 23513

Activities: Social Committee 1; Prayer Captain, Cheerleader 2; D.C., Nigeria, Mexico Team, Social Committee, Softball Team 3; D.C., Mexico Team 4.

Remembrance: (1) Getting to know the Lord and the power of His resurrection and really learning what it is to depend totally upon Him. Prov. 3:5, 6; (2) All the precious lessons the Lord taught me through my wonderful roommates; Mary Addison, Martha Sweatte, Suzy Jones, and Leslie Betts. Oh and I'll never forget Debbie Johnson for all the hard work she does with students.

Rev. Thomas Lee Rogers

3413 13th St. N.E.
Washington, D.C. 20017

Remembrance: Dr. Fowler's rapid fire; Brock Bingham's mouth . . . ; The Musical Wizardry of Mrs. Bos; and Carol Mulholland; and the preaching of Bob Norris.

David M. Tierney

Remembrance: The friendships I've made and the fact that the teaching here is the best. I'll also remember staying up all night typing term papers and writing charts for the next day.

Sharon Ruth Trout

1009 Baird Ave.
Yeadon, PA 19050

Activities: Women's Chorus 1; Women's Basketball 2.

Remembrance: I appreciate the time I've spent at WBC. It's been a time when the Lord has taught me many valuable lessons through devotions, classes, Christian Service, and fellow students. It's great to be at a place where the Word of God is emphasized and valued so much.

Elwin Turner

5410 Hamilton St., Apt. 2
Hyattsville, MD 20781

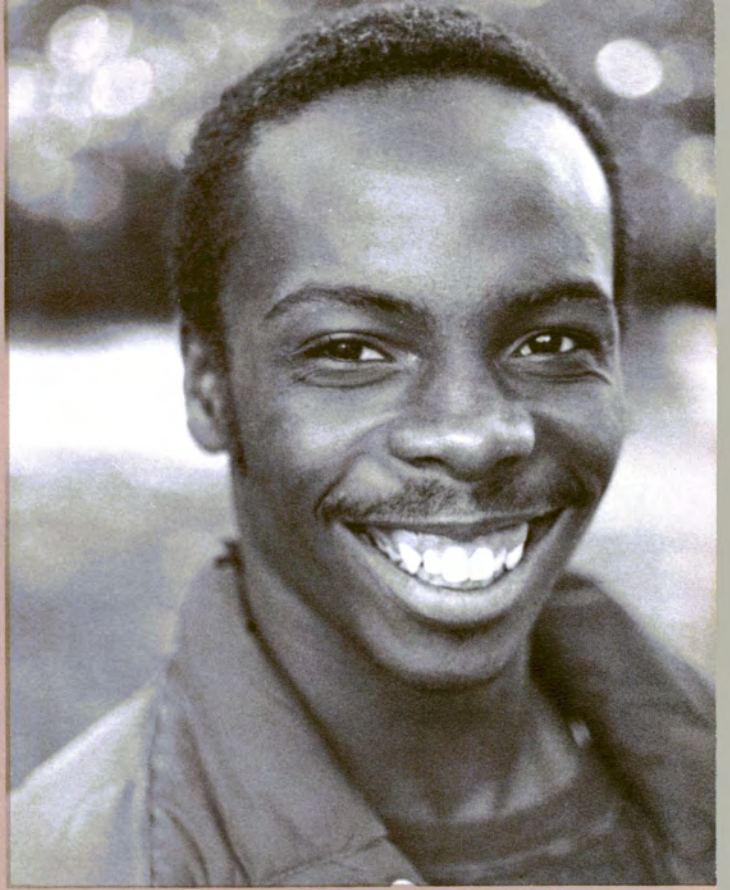

Remembrance: I remember WBC for the opportunity to learn truths that can help me for the rest of my life. I also appreciate the privilege of working with Mr. Underwood on the maintenance crew in many different types of work.

Carol Ann Williams

1331 Trevanion Rd.
Taneytown, MD 21787

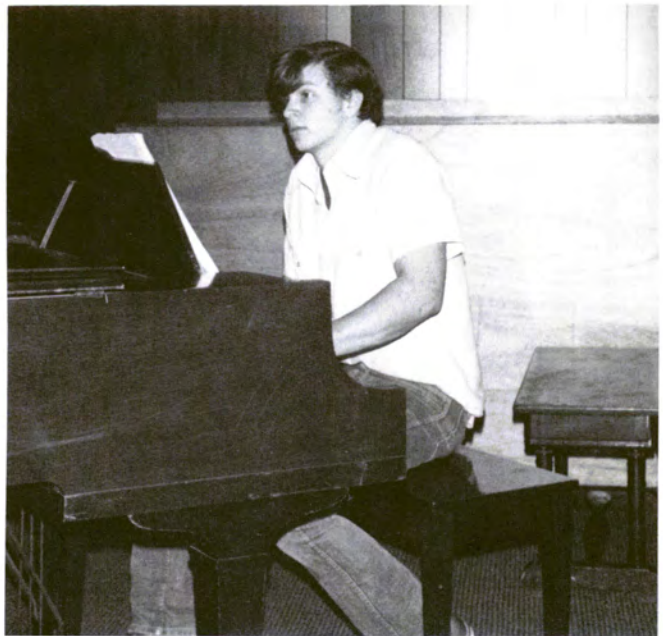

Activities: Women's Chorus 1; Mexico Team 3; Summer Missionary (Austria) 3; Kitchen Hostess 3,4.

Remembrance: The many friends the Lord has given me these four years; everything He has taught me about myself and other people; and especially a better knowledge of the Word.

We, the staff of the 1982 MILESTONE, have attempted to broaden the activities represented in the MILESTONE in order to better capture the race being run at the Washington Bible College. We pray that in all God has been glorified and that all those who look through this book will be encouraged to continue running the race.

I would like to thank Mr. Jeff Watson, our advisor, for his words of encouragement and advice. Sue Painter also was of great encouragement to me.

Thanks go as well to Mr. Daniel Webster of Delma Studios, and especially to Mr. John Bailey of the Hunter Publishing Co.

To my staff, I say a hearty thank you for all the time sacrificed in order to put this book together. Thanks to Tom Coleman, my business manager, for keeping me going by his willingness to work when nothing else seemed to work. A special word of thanks is in order to my photographic expert, Buzz Alley, for all his priceless help.

Most of all, I thank God for His great faithfulness and for His terrific answers to prayer. May He be glorified in all
